SureSet Appoints Agent in Ghana

Leading resin bound paving supplier SureSet has appointed a new agent to represent the company in Ghana.

Temako Engineering Limited will be promoting the extensive SureSet range to architects, landscape designers, contractors and home owners across the country, bringing the benefits of resin bound paving both to commercial and residential projects.

Proven in applications across Europe and Australasia, resin bound paving offers a wide range of surfacing and design options for both new build and refurbishment projects. Highly versatile, SureSet resin bound paving delivers beautiful and long lasting solutions, bringing life to projects of any size - including driveways, patios, pool surrounds, roof gardens, play areas, car parks, tree pits and public spaces.

Commenting on the agency agreement Francis Amoako, Owner and Founder of Temako said: “We’re delighted to have been awarded the SureSet agency. The quality and breadth of the SureSet product range, combined with high levels of service and support, will bring great opportunities in Ghana and we’re looking forward to presenting the complete range across the country over the coming months”.

Echoing Francis’ comments, Kevin Weston, Managing Director at SureSet said: “When identifying new Agents we look for companies that share our values of quality, technical support and customer service. It’s clear that Temako shares these and will be bring real value to our product offer in Ghana.

“We’re always looking for new Agents like Temako to work with – across Europe, Asia and America - and we have developed an effective product and support package to help us to launch SureSet into new markets. Anyone interested in working with us, or requiring more information on our extensive range should contact us via our website, www.sureset.co.uk or call us directly on +44(0)1985 841 180”.
